

HERE COMES THE BRIDE== "MARRIED ON A BET"

Tonopah Damsels With Matrimonial Engagements Are Denying This Impeachment

This being the month of brides, several young women who are contemplating matrimony are under suspicion in connection with "Married on a Bet," which is soon to be published in the columns of the Bonanza. No little fun has been extracted from the association of the two facts—and as there is no other place in the world where the people are more game than they are right here in Tonopah it is possible to conceive that one of our charming damsels might take a fling at matrimony just on a bet.

Quite a number of people have called to inquire, or have asked over the telephone, for the details of the "Married on a Bet" story. The Bonanza, in accordance with its agreement with the author of this copyrighted piece of fiction, with its scene in Tonopah, has been compelled to answer all that the only proof of this pudding will be in the eating. But the proof will be ample and satisfying. There is, however, no set day for the publication of this romance in Tonopah. Wait and watch.

ICE FORMS IN JUNE IN EASTERN ELKO

Mid-Summer Freeze Last Week Does Great Damage in the Vicinity of Wells and Metropolis

Tuesday night was a very destructive one to vegetation in this section. During the day the weather was cold and fires were found to be very comfortable. Along toward evening there was a slight fall of snow in town. During the night a heavy frost occurred. All of the gardens around Wells were partially ruined. Over in the Metropolis section much damage was done to grain and alfalfa, while such tender stuff as corn, beans and potatoes were leveled to the ground. At the home of William Cleveland ice formed to the thickness of three-quarters of an inch on pans of water. O. S. Rice reports that at

TENNIS DOUBLES FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

(By Associated Press.)

LONG BEACH, June 27.—Many tennis players who participated in the twenty-ninth Pacific states singles tournament, which closed today at Del Monte, are expected to arrive here within a few days to attend the Pacific states doubles championship. The doubles contest will continue here from June 30 until July 4.

Maurice McLoughlin, who has been on the national doubles team five times but who made a rather poor showing last year, probably will be teamed with Ward Dawson of Los Angeles. However, Bundy has not had the time this year to devote close attention to tennis and states he does not expect to be a serious contender.

It is expected thirty to forty teams will enter in the tournament before entries close next Wednesday. Thirty-two teams contended last year.

The list of entrants already includes numerous title holders, past and present, ranging from sectional to national champions.

THE ERRAND OF DAUBE

E. A. Daube of New York, personal representative of Charles Schwab and associates, was expected back in Tonopah today, but he is further detained in San Francisco, business connected with the mortgage of several properties he recently purchased on the western flat. Upon his return very important engagements are expected.

The Reno Fair and Racing Association adopted by the Nevada State Racing Commission, which has granted Grounds next Saturday, July 1st, under the rules of racing as Announces the opening of the summer racing season at the Fainted this association a state license for this meeting.

The revival of racing, with the elimination of objectionable gambling features which brought the sport into disrepute, means more than the mere furnishing of amusement to the public.

SPEED CONTESTS ENCOURAGE BREEDING

The United States animal census shows that there are more than 24,000,000 horses and mules in this country. The official records show that foreign governments have purchased more than a million horses in America during the past year.

These same foreign agents have purchased thousands of horses in Nevada during that period. Of those offered for sale here, 20 per cent were rejected as not up to the standard. The demand is for better horses. Experience has taught, not for years, but for centuries, that clean racing offers the greatest encouragement for owners to improve their breeds.

OBJECTIONABLE GAMBLING FEATURES ELIMINATED

The American public has long since set its stamp of disapproval upon the bookmaking method of laying wagers. This objectionable gambling feature has been eliminated, and with its passing there has come a new era in the business of raising and racing thoroughbreds throughout the entire country, including Reno and Nevada.

With these assurances of good faith
